Why does Eczema calming cream have reduced pH level?

The optimal pH level of the skin ensures the proper function of the skin cloak. If it is not in equilibrium, then the skin's ability in a protection function as is disrupted with impact on its frequent irritation, itching and inflammation symptoms. Many medical and pharmaceutical studies have confirmed the fact that the pH level of atopic skin is completely different than the pH level of healthy human skin. Therefore the creams with reduced pH level and other active ingredients support a significant relief from unpleasant itching and irritation quickly.

Active ingredients: Hemp oil, shea butter (shea), myrrh, marjoram.

Use: Rub the cream gently and just locally to the places with itchy and eczematous skin. Use the cream as needed also several times a day until the problem moves away.

Recommendation: Regarding the eczematous problems of babies and small kids use the BABE baby care calming cream to grease and calm their skin.
